EPA is committed to working closely with response agencies and state and local officials to ensure the safety of citizens, respond to concerns and to evaluate impact to water contaminated by the Gold King Mine Release. EPA is sharing information as quickly as possible with the public as experts work to evaluate any effects the spill may have on drinking water, public health, agriculture, fish and wildlife. Please see our website for the latest information: <http://www2.epa.gov/region8/gold-king-mine-release-emergency-response>
Regular updates will be posted as they are available.

Man Mr. McGrath,

It is time you are finally held accountable for your neglect of NM rivers. You need to resign.

You have just dumped more toxics into our rivers than anyone else in the history of our great State. Shame on you.
